

The Office of Suffolk County District Attorney Rachael Rollins: COVID-19

About This Guide

This is a collection of resources currently available in Suffolk County, Massachusetts compiled by the staff of the Juvenile Alternative Resolution Program (JAR Diversion) of the Juvenile Unit at the Suffolk County District Attorney's Office. It is not a complete list, and you should continue to consult relevant experts and your care providers when appropriate. This guide is intended to be a starting point for residents and service providers for finding resources to assist during the COVID-19 National Emergency. Our current circumstances are fluid and evolving; information, services, and recommendations may change over time. We advise you to contact any of the included services outlined here ahead of time to ensure up-to-date accuracy.

COVID-19: The Basics

What is COVID-19? It is a newly identified virus that causes respiratory illness. It can be transmitted from person to person, which is why hand-washing and avoiding unnecessary contact with other people is so important to stop the spread.

What are the symptoms? The most common presentation of the virus is a mild to severe respiratory illness including fever, cough, and shortness of breath.

How can I prevent getting sick? Follow city and state protocols regarding social distancing (staying at home as much as possible and staying at least 6 feet away from others). Avoid close contact with people who are sick, practice good hand washing, and avoid touching your face with unwashed hands. Clean and disinfect commonly touched surfaces regularly and cover your mouth and nose with a tissue or elbow when you cough or sneeze. Contact your primary care physician to seek medical guidance if you develop respiratory illness symptoms, and call 911 for medical emergencies.

Where can I get more information? The U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and the Massachusetts Department of Public Health release daily updates on their websites:

Courts and the Justice System

All of the court systems in the Commonwealth are acting in a reduced capacity. Most courthouses are closed to the public during the COVID-19 Emergency, with the exception of emergency hearings. Where possible, hearings are being done via phone or videoconference. For details about how that may affect a specific case, please contact the clerk's office at the specific courthouse where the case is being handled.

Health and Medical Care

What do I do if I have COVID-19 symptoms?

- Call a doctor if you think you have been exposed to COVID-19 and/or you have developed a fever (100.4° or higher) with cough or difficulty breathing, and follow all medical guidance.
- Stay home unless you need to leave to get medical care.
- Call ahead before visiting your doctor so that they can take safety precautions.
- Limit contact with others in your home if possible and disinfect all shared areas.
- If you need to call 911 for a medical emergency, alert dispatch that you are experiencing COVID-19 symptoms in order to protect the health and safety of first responders.

If you develop any of these emergency warning signs of COVID-19 infection, seek medical attention immediately:

- Difficulty breathing or shortness of breath
- Persistent pain or pressure in the chest
- New confusion or inability to arouse
- Bluish lips or face
- Consult your medical provider for any other severe or concerning symptoms

Mental Health Services and Support

Navigating a Mental Health Crisis

If you or someone you know are experiencing a mental health crisis, it is important to know:
You are not alone, this is not your fault, you deserve help and support, and there is support available for you.

What is a Mental Health Crisis? NAMI (National Alliance on Mental Illness) defines a mental health crisis as: “any situation in which a person’s behavior puts them at risk of hurting themselves or others and/or prevents them from being able to care for themselves or function effectively in the community.”

Are There Warning Signs? Warning signs are not always present, but some common signs include: A decrease in daily functioning and ability to care for self, rapid mood swings and energy levels, increased agitation and aggression, self-harm behaviors, increased substance use, abusive behavior towards others, isolation from others, losing touch with reality, paranoia.

Are There Warning Signs of Suicide? There are not always warning signs, but some common signs include: giving away possessions, talking as if they are saying goodbye or leaving, taking steps to resolve debts and other outstanding issues, making or changing a will, stockpiling medications or obtaining a weapon, preoccupation with death, sudden calm or happiness after a period of hopelessness, dramatic changes in behavior or mood, increased substance use, statements of hopelessness or despair, withdrawal from loved ones, failed romantic relationships, history of suicide attempts or self-harming behaviors, history of family or friend attempting or completing suicide.

What do I do During a Mental Health Crisis? If you are worried about yourself or a loved one, assess the immediacy of the situation to help determine where to start: Is the person in immediate danger of hurting themselves or others? Do you have time to pursue guidance from a mental health professional? Do you need emergency assistance?

Call 9-1-1 if there is immediate danger, and leave the location immediately if you do not feel safe with the person.

For a crisis that does not require a 9-1-1 response, you can pursue hotlines, helplines, and other rapid response providers.

Children's Behavioral Health Initiative (CBHI)

- CBHI services are an option for eligible youth and their families who meet clinical criteria and have qualifying MassHealth insurance coverage.
- CBHI services include a continuum of home and community-based behavioral health treatment, support, and case management services in a wrap-around model that intends to support the youth with mental health conditions as well as their family, recognizing how a child's mental health can affect the entire family unit.
- To learn more about CBHI, visit: <https://www.mass.gov/masshealth/cbhi>
- To find CBHI providers that cover your region, visit: <https://www.mabhaccess.com>

CBHI providers may have varying protocols, including telehealth, for delivery of care at this time, including telehealth or other ways to manage care while protecting the health and safety of the providers and patients during the COVID-19 emergency. Please contact the providers directly to learn more about their current service availability.

Telehealth Services

So what is Telehealth? Telehealth is when healthcare is provided by telecommunication technology (including phone, video chatting, or other method) instead of in person. Many medical and mental health providers are choosing to use methods of telehealth services in order to continue providing care during the COVID-19 emergency. Telehealth is covered by MassHealth and many other insurance plans under provisions regarding expectations of coverage during the COVID-19 health emergency. If you are interested in receiving care by telehealth, talk to your healthcare providers or your insurance customer service department.

Child Welfare

Reporting and Responding to Child Abuse or Neglect

What do I do if I suspect a child is being abused or neglected? First, immediately call the 24-Hour DCF Child Protection Hotline at 1(800) 792-5200 or your local DCF office that serves the area where the child lives during business hours. A directory of DCF area offices can be found at <https://www.mass.gov/dcf>

When do I report? Report if you suspect a child is experiencing abuse, neglect, or exploitation. You do not need to be certain in order to report.

What are the warning signs of abuse and neglect? You can review DCF's guide regarding signs of physical abuse, neglect, sexual abuse, and sexual exploitation or human trafficking at: <https://www.mass.gov/info-details/warning-signs-of-child-abuse-and-neglect>

What happens after I make a report? DCF, with the support of a multi-disciplinary team, will review the report to evaluate the circumstances to determine the child's safety and needs and whether DCF involvement is warranted.

For more information, visit: <https://www.suffolkcac.org/support-resources/reporting-abuse>

Emergency response services in Suffolk County are still running and available. Please call 911 if you believe that a child is in immediate life-threatening danger.

Tips for Remote Learning

Home Learning Tips for Students:

- Try to stick to a daily schedule.
- Try to find a comfortable space within minimal distractions.
- Don't overwhelm yourself, take breaks if you are stressed.
- Try to finish assignments on time, and give yourself extra time to get used to this new type of learning.
- Check in with your teachers regularly and reach out to them if you need help.
- Do your best to stay away from TV, phones, or other distractions while working.
- Don't forget to eat, sleep, and take care of your body and mental health!
- Take a quick break from the screen every 30 minutes.

For more info, visit: <https://bostonpublicschools.helpdocs.io/article/cxr30nhs80-home-learning-tips-for-students-families>

Most schools have moved to remote and online learning to protect health and safety. Make sure to communicate directly with your child's school to ensure accuracy of information.

How can I support my child's online learning? Adults play a big role in students' learning. Explore learning sites with children, ask them questions about what they are learning, and engage in conversations about what they are watching on TV or online. Studies show that children learn more when they are able to talk about what they are learning.

- Set a daily schedule.
- Review virtual learning apps at: <https://www.common sense media.org/app-reviews>
- Help them incorporate non-online activities such as reading, crafts, or other activities.
- Be realistic about goals and expectations, this is a stressful time.
- Help your child to navigate classes online.
- If possible, provide your child with a comfortable and distraction-free environment.
- Contact your child's teacher or school with any questions or issues.

Applying for Unemployment Benefits

Should I apply for unemployment benefits if my employer has shut down because of COVID-19? Yes, apply online as soon as possible.

If approved, how much will my weekly benefit be? You can calculate your estimated benefit amount here:

<https://www.mass.gov/info-details/how-your-unemployment-benefits-are-determined>

How long can I collect benefits? You can collect unemployment benefits for up to 26 weeks total within a year.

Will I get benefits for my first week of unemployment? Yes, if you applied on or after March 10, 2020, you will receive your benefit for the first week.

Should I apply for unemployment benefits if my employer has reduced my hours because of COVID-19? Yes, if your hours or wages have been reduced, you may be eligible for partial unemployment benefits.

Can I apply for unemployment benefits if I am unable to work due to quarantine? Yes, you are eligible for unemployment benefits if you are temporarily unemployed due to being quarantined, laid off, furloughed or if your workplace is temporarily shut down.

What if I was already collecting unemployment benefits due to a reason other than COVID-19? You should continue to do work search online as much as you are able. There are many things that can be done remotely that will count as work search such as monitoring job postings and submitting resumes online.

What if I was late responding to DUA questions or appealing a denial due to COVID-19? You will be excused, DUA will consider the impact of COVID-19 illness, suspected illness, or quarantine.

What if my workplace is shut down, and I am working from home? You are not eligible for unemployment if you are working full-time hours. If you are working reduced hours, then you may be eligible for partial benefits.

Can I collect benefits if I was laid off temporarily but offered part-time work? Yes, but all earnings must be reported to determine the appropriate benefit amount.

Will the 26 week period be extended if I was receiving unemployment benefits before the COVID-19 Emergency? No, 26 weeks is still the maximum for a one year benefit period.

I'm self-employed, but no longer able to work due to COVID-19, am I eligible? Currently, self-employed individuals are certain contract employees are not eligible for unemployment benefits.

Immigration

IMPORTANT The Massachusetts Immigrant & Refugee Advocacy Coalition advises If you or a loved one are sick or know you've been exposed to the coronavirus, don't hesitate to get tested and treated, regardless of your immigration status or insurance coverage. COVID-19 testing and treatment for uninsured individuals is covered by Medicaid at no cost to you. Getting tested or treated for COVID-19 will NOT count as public charge for immigrants, and it will not have any negative affect on your ability to obtain a green card or change of immigration status under the public charge rule.

Medically Vulnerable Populations

Who is at Higher Risk?

Older adults and people of any age with serious underlying medical conditions may be at higher risk for more serious illness and complications from COVID-19. Based on this information, high risk individuals include: People aged 65+, people who live in a nursing home or facility, people with chronic lung disease or asthma, people with serious heart conditions, people who are immunocompromised, and people with other serious medical conditions that are not well managed.

What do Higher Risk People Need to Know?

- Reducing exposure is especially important for people at higher risk of complications. The CDC advises to stay at home as much as possible if COVID-19 is spreading in your community.
- Planning is key: Develop a care plan with others who can support you with errands, out of the home needs, and medical support. Have access to several weeks of medication and medical supplies available in case you need to stay home for a prolonged period of time.
- Create an emergency contacts list.
- Practice good hygiene for yourself and your home, plan for assistance with these tasks if needed.
- Watch for symptoms and emergency warning signs.
- Follow your state's guidance for community measures.
