- street and block traffic.
- You have rights if you are detained by immigration authorities.
1. Remember that you have the right to remain silent and do not have to answer any questions until you speak with an attorney.
  2. You have a right to an attorney, but the government will not pay for the attorney. Immigration officials must show you a list of free or low-cost legal service.
  3. Do not sign any paper unless you have spoken with an attorney. Do not sign any paper if you are unsure about the contents of the paper. You have a right to a translator.
  4. If you have not already been ordered deported, you may have a right to a hearing before an immigration judge.
  5. If you have a right to a hearing, then you have a right to know the charges filed against you and you have a right to contest these charges.
  6. You have the right to speak with your consulate.

What to Do if the Police, Immigration or Other Authorities Stop You

You have the right to be free from unlawful searches and seizures.

You have rights as a pedestrian.

What to do if you are approached by the police or immigration agents on the street.

1. You have the constitutional right to remain silent. You have the right to remain silent even if you are asked questions about your immigration status. They cannot arrest you without "probable cause" (a good reason to believe you have committed an offense). Always remember that you have the constitutional right to remain silent, regardless of your immigration status.

2. It's not a crime to refuse to answer questions, but refusing to answer might make the police suspicious about you.

What to do if you are asked to identify yourself.

• If you have valid identification that does not reveal your immigration status, then show it.

3. If you are a member of a union, your union should let you know if immigration officials are coming to look for you.
- You have the right to solicit for work.
1. You have the right to talk about work or to look for work with a contractor or anyone else in a public space protected by the First Amendment to the United States Constitution.
  2. You have the right to stand and gather on public property as long as you are obeying the law and not blocking street traffic or creating a safety problem for yourself, other pedestrians or drivers.
  3. You DO NOT have the same right to solicit for work on private property and could be arrested for trespassing, which would have criminal or financial penalties.
  4. Here are some tips for avoiding contact with law enforcement:
    - Keep the sidewalk clean of trash.
    - Always leave space for passers-by on sidewalks.
    - Be respectful of those around you.
    - Make sure that you abide by all pedestrian laws, cross the street in designated areas and do not stand in the
- and address are on the warrant.
4. If there is a warrant from an immigration officer, then you have the right to not allow the officers in your home. GO OUTSIDE to see the officers, especially if there are other people in the house with immigration problems.
  5. If the officers do NOT have a warrant, then do NOT let them into your house.
  6. If they enter your house without a warrant, then make it clear that you do not consent to the search.
  7. ALWAYS get the names of the officers and their badge numbers if you can.
- You have rights when you are at work.
- What to do if immigration agents come to your place of work.*
1. Immigration officers are not allowed to check your work records or documents at your job without a warrant.
  2. If an immigration officer approaches you at work, you do not have to answer any questions. Tell the officer that you wish to remain silent and if the officer asks you for your papers, tell the officer that you wish to speak with your lawyer.
2. You should never drive without a valid driver's license.
3. If you are driving and you are stopped, then you must show your driver's license, proof of registration and insurance.
  4. You do not have to answer questions about your immigration status or any other questions. If asked, tell the officer you wish to remain silent.
  5. You do not have to allow the police to search your car unless they have probable cause (a good reason that there is criminal activity happening). If they ask, DO NOT let them search the car because they can legally search the car with your consent.
- You have rights in your home.
- What to do if immigration agents, the police or housing inspectors come to your house.*
1. Do NOT let anyone from the government (police, immigration or housing inspectors) in your house without a warrant (an official authorization).
  2. If there is a warrant, ASK TO SEE IT, but do not open the door.
  3. When you see the warrant, make sure that your name
- If you think your name or the documents in your possession will place you at risk for arrest, then say you choose to remain silent, and don't show them anything until you speak with a lawyer. Presenting fraudulent documentation is a federal offense and will result in your arrest.
3. If you are approached on the street by an immigration official, the FBI or police, you MUST ask if you are free to go. Ask them, "Am I under arrest or am I free to go?" If they say that you are not being arrested, then you are free to walk away.
  4. If you are told that you are under arrest, then you have the right to ask why you are being arrested. Tell the police officer or immigration agent that you do not want to answer any questions until you speak with an attorney.
- You have rights in your car.
- What to do if the police, immigration or other officials stop you in your car.*
1. The officer must have "probable cause" (a good reason that criminal activity or traffic violation is happening) to stop the car, but they may stop the car in a routine stop.

WHAT TO DO IF YOUR FRIEND OR FAMILY MEMBER IS DETAINED

1. Contact Immigration to locate your friend or family member.

- You will need: (a) person's full name (including any aliases);
(b) date of birth;
(c) Alien Registration Number ("A #"). If you do not know this number, ask the officer for it when you call.
- You can call Immigration at:
ICE Detention & Removal Operations, 10 New England Executive Park,
Burlington, MA 01803: (781) 359-7500 x. 3
  - You can also ask for the name of the deportation officer assigned to the case
  - If the officer will not release the information, explain who you are (such as a translator for the family), politely ask for a reason for the refusal, and ask to speak with a supervisory deportation officer.
- You can also call local Immigration facilities and say, "I need to locate someone in immigration custody." Appendix C contains the contact information for immigration facilities in or near Massachusetts.

2. Contact a lawyer or community organization for assistance.

- Appendix A contains a list of legal aid organizations in New England.
- Appendix B contains a list of non-legal organizations in Massachusetts.
- Have as much information about the detained person and his or her immigration history when calling.

3. Contact the deportation officer and the detention center about health or family issues, such as:

- A detainee's health or medication
- A detainee's children, especially if the detainee is the sole caretaker of a child in the United States

4. Allow a detainee to call you

- Call Correctional Billing Services at 1-800-844-6591. Follow prompts to prepay for calls to a land line telephone (not a cell phone).

5. Find out from a detained person:

- charges and date on the Notice to Appear given to him or her by Immigration
- date of entry into the U.S., any prior deportation orders, any prior criminal arrests, family members with legal status
- any special needs in detention for medication, diet, religion, etc.

- whether he or she has designated anyone to care for his or her children or make decisions about personal property. If not, ask the detainee for the name, address, and date of birth for people who could do that.

6. Contact the consulate for the detainee's country of origin:

- It is helpful to inform the consulate about a detainee's case in case she needs to advocate for the detainee
- If necessary, a consulate can provide travel documents to a detainee

7. Find out the Immigration Court date of a detainee

- Call 1-800-898-7180 (Spanish or English). Follow the prompts. You will need the detainee's A# for this automated system to work.
- If the A# is not recognized in the system, call the next day. It may take a few days for a person's A# to be entered in the system.
- You can also call this number to find out the judge if the person already had an immigration hearing.
- If a person was ordered deported, he will not receive a new date to appear before an immigration judge.

8. Visit a detained person if you have legal immigration status

- Call the jail for visiting hours. Be prepared to give your full name, date of birth, and social security number for security clearance.
- Undocumented individuals should not visit a detention center or jail

9. Help a detainee prepare for bond

- Many detainees can ask the immigration judge for bond at their first or second hearing.
- Not all detainees can get a bond to get out of detention. For example, someone already ordered deported cannot get a bond. Some criminal convictions also prevent a person from getting bond. Consult with a lawyer.
- Give the detainee letters from family members with legal status or other persons with legal status in the community willing to help or provide financial assistance if the detainee is released. The letters should be translated into English and include:
  - Full name, date of birth, and legal status (with proof of status, like a copy of a green card) of the person writing the letter
  - Explanation of how the writer knows the detainee
  - Information about the detainee's activities in the community, character, and other examples of why the detainee would not be a danger to the community and would return to court for his or her next hearing
- It is helpful if the people writing letters can come to the detainee's court hearing
