

Hello. We wanted to share that there was an accident today where one of our students was in with non-life-threatening injuries. He was taken to the hospital with a dean accompanying him until his parents arrive. We know this upsetting news and know many students are distressed. We have several counselors available throughout the day for support.

